To Whom It May Concern:

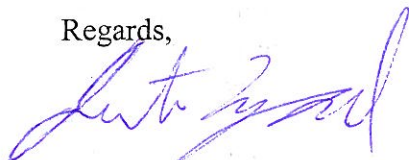

Pennock Acheson Nielsen Devaney is a midsize accounting firm who has recently outgrown its server infrastructure and has been working with PC Corp to architect a solution that will meet our needs today and give us the ability to grow as our firm grows.

PC Corp has been instrumental in helping us with this process. They were involved from the early stages assisting us architect our solution. Their involvement didn't end there. They also facilitated the procurement and implementation phases of the equipment so that we could meet our internal timelines enabling us to be fully operational January 1, 2009.

We have found PC Corp to be both knowledgeable and eager to work with us as we moved from the traditional standalone server environment to a consolidated IBM Blade infrastructure running Microsoft Hyper-V.

We would be glad to recommend them as a partner of choice. They live up to their motto: Making I.T. Easy.
